OTHER SYMBOLS

PINK TRIANGLE

The pink triangle was originally used in Nazi concentration camps to primarily mark homosexual men and those identified as such. The pink triangle is used by individuals in the community as a reclamation of an oppressive symbol, and now serves for some as a gay pride and gay rights symbol.

BLACK TRIANGLE

The black triangle was originally used in Nazi concentration camps to primarily mark people who were deemed asocial elements and work-shy.

Depicts a circle with an arrow projecting from the top-right, as per the male symbol, a cross projecting from the bottom, as per the female symbol, and with an additional striped arrow (combining the female cross and male arrow) projecting from the top-left.

STONEWALL

- Stonewall was started in 1989.
- Stonewall is a charity that helps LGBTQ+ people.
- Stonewall's mission is;
”acceptance without exception”

The Stonewall Riots

were a series of spontaneous demonstrations by members of the gay community in response to a police raid that began in the early morning hours of June 28, 1969, at the Stonewall Inn in the Greenwich Village neighbourhood of Manhattan, New York City. Patrons of the Stonewall, other Village lesbian and gay bars and neighbourhood street people fought back when the police became violent. The riots are widely considered to constitute one of the most important events leading to the gay liberation movement and the twentieth century fight for LGBT rights in the United States.

- It used to be against the law to talk about LGBT in school. (Section 28)
- In 2003 teachers were allowed to talk about it again.
- The most popular song was 'Where is The Love' by the Black Eyed Peas

CHANGES IN ~~THE LAW~~

The 2007 Equality Act meant that LGB people had to be treated fairly at work
and in other areas of life.

Equality Act 2010

CHAPTER 15

ETC

The Equality Act was updated in 2010 to make sure that trans people are treated fairly

In April 2019, the government announced new regulations for teaching Relationships and Sex Education in England.

This was a great step forward in the fight for equality, marking a significant change in the way children and young people are taught about LGBT relationships and identities. But the fight is far from over. We still need your support.

So what does all this mean?

COFFEE MORNING

We celebrated Pride month and helped to raise awareness for the LGBTQIA+ community by holding a themed morning in the shop.

We sold rainbow drinks, gave out stickers, Pride themed colouring pages and information to increase people's awareness and promote a supportive environment for everybody!
